Red Cross Convener Resigns

The September meeting of the White Rock branch, Canadian Red Cross Society, was held at the White Rock Hotel on Tuesday evening. In the absence through illness of Major Goldsmith, the president, Mrs. H. Norton took the chair. Mrs. Ballard read the minutes of the last meeting and Mrs. Moffat read the treasurer's report showing a balance of $22 on hand.

Resignation of Mrs. F. MacKenzie, work convener, who was unable to devote sufficient time to the work, was accepted with regret and Mrs. Morden elected to fill the post. A large shipment has been recently sent to Headquarters and more materials are now on hand. Work rooms continue to be open twice weekly—Tuesdays and Thursdays—1:30 to 4:30 p.m. at the Anglican Church.

An interesting contribution to war work was revealed when it was mentioned that one member had driven the work convener and other active members twice weekly to and from work rooms.

White Rock Legion of Frontiersmen went to New Westminster on Sunday when "C" Squadron, L. of F., Canadian Division entertained "A" Squadron from Vancouver. The men, under Capt. F. Volstenholme, paraded to Queen's Avenue United Church where Rev. Wm. A. Willmer of the L. of F. conducted services.

On Monday night the same group went to St. Barnabas Hall, New Westminster, for drill and luncheon. Lieut. (Ftym.) Wm. Barge and Serjt. P. Friend were in charge of the local group which included Ftym: Taylor, Stager, Bird, Goggs and Tibbrook.

Home, Home On Blair Range

O give me a home where no orderlies roam,
Where all of the dwellings have floors,
Where you don't drill in squads,
And you don't sleep on sods,
And the plumbing is all out of doors.

Cho's Home, Home on Blair Range,
Where the sleeping quarters are strange,
Where seldom is heard,
An unprofane word,
And they shoot on the hundred yard range.

O when I get home, straw hat on my dome,
And service suit draping my frame,
I'll get some good grub,
Dunk myself in a tub,
And go back to a life that is tame.

Cho's Home, Home on Blair Range,
Where every condition is strange,
The ground is so rough,
And the drilling is so tough,
Only men can survive at Blair Range.
But when we are home, no longer to roam,
O'er the rocks and slopes of Blair Range,
And we're bothered no more,
By the R.S.M.'s roar,
We'll recall an enjoyable change.

Cho's Home, Home on Blair Range,
Where every condition is strange,
Though the crabs are in a rife,
It's a pretty swell life,
And we hope to return to the Range.

Second Detachment "B" Company Militia Now Under Canvas

The second detachment of N.P.M. left White Rock on Sunday for Blair Range, numbering thirty. They joined the Cloverdale and Langley units. Escorted by a Provincial motorcycle policeman who stopped all traffic letting the army have a clear passage, the detachment included four Army Service trucks of Surrey men, four of Langley men, two staff cars and—showing the special influence of White Rock—Cliff Reid with a full load. Walter Lefroy and Bert Davies driving their own cars.

The men arrived at 1:30, paraded for boots and had lunch. Food was good. Afterwards were parades for other equipment.

Jimmy Wilcock has been appointed acting sergeant-major which means he takes a tent to himself. Lucky guy! On Sunday night the sergeants' mess held a meeting and each member was assessed a dollar for the forthcoming smoker on Friday.

Let newa comes to hand from Doug Robinson. Doug says: "First fire picket drew Cliff Reid, Ernie Ambrose, Art McDonald and myself. The six fellows in our tent, which is called the 'Gopher Hole', are Jimmy Magill, Pete Harroway, Ernie Ambrose, Art McDonald, Walter Lefroy and self. Apt nick names have been chosen: Jimmy being 'Blonde', Pete, 'Stooper', Ernie, 'Crusier', Art, 'exponent', Walter, 'Slim', Doug, 'Curley'."

Everyone in "B" Company sends regards to friends in White Rock. We also hear that Mrs. Jimmy Magill is a right lucky woman as Jimmy holds top honors as the Company's foremost exponent of the arts of dish-washing and bed-making.

The unit who returned last Sunday were glad to get back. After an absence of only two weeks, White Rock looks about the best spot on earth to the boys.

Provincial President Addresses Local Legion

About 69 members of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L. and the W.A. provided an enthusiastic audience for Provincial President Wm. McKintyre and Provincial Secretary R. Macneil for the Pier Rooms on Tuesday night.

Mr. McKintyre dealt with matters of immediate concern to Legion members including pensions, welfare and convention reports. Mr. Macneil spoke on the War Services Department of the Legion, including the distribution of comforts to, education of soldiers of the present war and care of the dependents of men of the last war. Pat Hall, zone representative from Chilliwack, conveyed greeting from other zone branches.

President Bieby conducted the meetings and the ladies served refreshments.

As local business could not be completed at the Legion meeting on Tuesday night owing to the full program, a special meeting for men only will be held at the Pier Rooms on Friday night.

Glad Expert Produces Bloom From Seed in One Season

A glad in bloom from seeds planted the first year is Dave Sinclair's latest garden feat. Mr. Sinclair's glad farm of Stuyve Road is becoming widely known for many innovations and mutations.

Geo. Thrift has some Bartlett pears weighing over 16 ounces in his window. These pears are from C. M.'s own garden and he says they are wonderful eating.

An English "Non-Such" apple, grown by F. Chancellor, Bishop Road, and weighing over 1½ lbs., is on display at Hughes and MacKenzie's. This apple is a perfect specimen of its kind, with clear green skin, unmarked by blemishes of any sort.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Lloyd and sons, Ray, Ken and Ross, who have been living in White Rock this past year, moved to Vancouver on Tuesday.

Property Threatened By Bush Fire

A bush fire of unknown origin at the corner of Hayte and Buena Vista Roads on Monday noon endangered the home of Mr. A. Robinson. Valiant efforts of neighbours held the blaze in check until the arrival of the White Rock Fire Brigade. Nearby wells were pumped dry and wet sacks were capably used by members of the brigade.

As the fire brigade is not supposed to fight bush fire, this being a municipality responsibility, the men could not undertake the onus of combating this blaze so returned to White Rock. Later in the day, spreading fire again crept within a few feet of the Robinson home and the fire truck again responded. The buildings were saved a second time.

Fire rapidly spread north and east, jumping the Hayte Road, and is now burning itself out in an unpopulated area.

Community Club

The Community Club held its first meeting of the season at the Club Rooms on Monday night, Fred Kalley presiding.

Several members were absent at Blair Range with the N.P.M. and others were away vacationing but a good meeting was held. Financial report for July and August, showing a favorable balance, was read and adopted.

Guy Graham of the Park Theatre presented the boys with a punching bag, to encourage athletics. Tentative plans were laid for a bazaar to be held in the near future.

Following the meeting refreshments were served in the Park Dining Room. Next regular meeting will be held on Sept. 23 at the Club Rooms.

White Rock Newsettes

Frank Moffat and Norm Clarkson spent several days fishing on the Princeton-Hope trail. The boys had a great time and caught enough fish for their own use. Most exciting incident, according to Norm, was the appearance of Provincial Police asking to see their registration cards.

Major Goldsmith is now able to get around after his recent illness although still rather shaky.

The regular monthly meeting of the V.O.N. (White Rock Branch) will be held at the White Rock Lodge on the 4th Wednesday instead of the usual 3rd Wednesday of the month.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Davis, Columbia Avenue, have returned from a short holiday in Vancouver.

Bob Angus is visiting Mrs. Gordon Campbell of Medicine Hat. Latest reports say that Bob is benefitting from the prairie air and already gained several pounds. He expects to spend the winter there.

Mr. J. Wright is busy these days making alterations to his home on Columbia Avenue.

Sawdust Bombs Rain on England

An interesting letter has been received by Mr. and Mrs. J. Crompt, Columbia Avenue, from their son, John, with the 1st Battalion, Seaforth Highlanders, somewhere in England. Describing an air raid he says, "Thirty Jerry's came over and our Spitfires went after them and our bombers came over and dropped bombs. Many of them didn't explode and when we investigated we found some of them were filled with sawdust. When we opened one we found a note, written in English, 'Carry on; We're with you.' Our boys figure they were made by Czechs or Poles, pulling a fast one on Adolf and his Nazis."

Mr. and Mrs. Crompt also have two other sons in the army. Charles with the Seaforths in England and Bill with the B.E.F., but where the parents have no idea.

From Rags to Riches Via 8 Cent Cheque

Geo. Thrift received a cheque recently—and what a cheque! Eight cents! It seems that thirty-five years ago, George invested $50 with the Canadian Marconi Company. Thirty-five years—passed and so dividends appeared to fill George's purse. Dreams of rich returns were succeeded by philosophy. "One has to pay for every experience. This shows the futility of speculations. Never again!" Yet, after all these years, George's faith in that long ago investment was justified with the appearance of that cheque for his first dividend. While he has given up hope of getting rich from it, George is keeping his fingers crossed. This may be just the beginning of bigger and better dividends. Here's hoping, George!

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hostler, who recently arrived here from Edmonton, Alberta, have purchased a lot on the Johnston Road, and will commence the erection of a $1200 home on their new property.

Miss Crawford is making extensive alterations to "Wendwood", Victoria Avenue, which she purchased this spring.

Miss Jean Leunheiser of Vancouver is the guest of Miss Lillian Campbell of the Brown Derby.

Mrs. E. J. Wilson, who has been visiting in Saskatoon for the past weeks has returned to White Rock. While in the Prairie Province, Mrs. Wilson visited Dundurn Camp where her husband is in training.

Bill Goldsmith, who was injured in the sinking of H.M.C.S. Fraser last June, has been discharged from hospital and is now visiting his uncle, Mr. Frederick Goldsmith, at Brighton.

Mrs. Ralph Merklin, accompanied by her small son, Ralph, are spending the week in Vancouver as the guests of Mrs. Merklin's aunt, Mrs. J. F. Williamson.

Joint Defence

There is much discussion these days of joint hemisphere defense and details of the leasing of British Atlantic possessions as American naval and air bases are being completed. That is well. The Atlantic seaboard is the most exposed spot and action cannot be taken too swiftly.

But what of the western seaway? Are our defenses adequate? Are America's? The answer is—No. True no invasion is imminent, but events move so swiftly that the fact we are not menaced to-day does not mean we will not be to-morrow.

In July 1935 the U.S.S. battle cruiser Houston and her sister vessels were anchored off Semiahmoo Bay where target practice was carried out, to the intense interest of peoples on both sides of the border.

In addition to her gun armament the Houston carried four seaplanes which could be released by catapult. At the time it was mooted by the people of Blaine that an international air base be established at the boundary line on the foreshore of Semiahmoo Bay.

Surveyors had already viewed the site and government officials had given their approval. Matters had already gone so far that discussions had taken place between American and Canadian officials for the establishment of the base. It was reported that the Canadian government had been holding land at Douglas in reserve for this purpose.

Why was this far sighted project allowed to lapse? Then was the time to have got the work under way, with resultant prosperity to Blaine and White Rock.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

MAKE YOUR PICTURES POINTED

Make your pictures pointed. In this shot, the sign helps tell the story. Such details often "make" a picture.

When you see an opportunity for a picture, shoot it—but don't always stop there. Think a bit, and see if there isn't a way to improve the shot and make it more pointed. Every good picture has a point—it tells you something when you look at it. The more definite you can make the idea or "story" the better the picture. And often little added details, things that don't occur to you at first glance, yield a much-improved shot.

For example, consider the boys and their wagon-works, as shown above. Chances are, Dad supplied the tools and the idea, and shot a first picture in the backyard. Then, very likely, the "men working" sign down the street suggested a better background—one that would make the picture more effective—so the scene was changed for a second shot. Incidentally, this shot might have been even better if it included the whole sign.

That's the way a lot of good pictures are made. The first picture doesn't have to be the final one. If an idea is good, it's worth repeating later—in a different location, or with different subjects. Oftentimes,

In examining a print, you can see points where the picture might be improved—and in a great many cases, it's easy enough to get a second shot.

To make your pictures more pointed, here are some tips. First, show the action clearly, so anybody can tell what is going on. The camera position has a lot to do with this, and sometimes a shift of a foot or so to one side will make a world of difference. Holding the camera higher or lower makes a difference, too.

Second, eliminate things that don't contribute to the picture idea. If there are objects that have no part in telling the story, move them aside, or choose a viewpoint that leaves them out of the picture.

Third, keep the interest within the picture. Let the subjects look at what they're doing. Few pictures demand that the subject look at the camera, or even appear aware of it.

Try these hints, when you're shooting pictures—and when the first shot isn't perfect, get a second one. It's a poor idea that isn't worth two or more pictures.

You Can Help The Red Cross

WIRING TIME

Whenever you see a criss-cross of wires spun above a farm you know the farmer is enjoying dividends resulting from modern electrified methods. Many Fraser Valley farmers know the service electric power can be, the hours of labor it can save and the ease it produces on otherwise laborious chores.

Consult our Agricultural representatives when planning or re-wiring your farm. They will be pleased to prepare a scale diagram of the set-up best suited to your farm. Canada's cheapest farm power rate can be a real service to your farm.

A CHALLENGE TO CANADIANS

EMERGENCY CALL!

From the shores of our Motherland comes an appeal for help which no true Canadian can fail to heed. While we live in comfort, death drops on that embattled island. The need for Red Cross assistance is urgent. Our sons and brothers are over there. On land, at sea, in the air, they face death daily. We must be prepared to help them when they are sick or wounded.

Red Cross help is needed on behalf of soldier and civilian alike. Hospitals and hospital equipment, surgical supplies and dressings, ambulances and X-Ray equipment will be needed. Overnight the need may become so urgent that lives may be sacrificed if help cannot be sent at once.

Never before has there been so great a need for Red Cross assistance. This challenge to humanity must be answered. Give to the Red Cross. Give to the utmost NOW!

Speech Made by Tom Reid On The Budget

Our argument to the minister is that precedents have been created and something can and should be done.

We do not complain when the fishermen in the maritime provinces receive over a half a million dollars. We are not against the government guaranteeing the price of apples or the price of pork. But we ask for equal treatment. When the fishermen of B.C., numbering nearly 9000 this year, ask that something be done, they are told that nothing can be done. We are informed that it is a matter for the cabinet to decide. This is the reason that I bring this matter to the attention of the house this afternoon. Time is short because the fishing season opens on June 30. Is the government going to stand by and see between 8 and 9 thousand families deprived of their living?

This food will be required later, if not immediately, at least in the near future. We are being urged to produce more food. I contend that the government should take note of this dispute and at least offer a guaranteed price so that these men can carry on their fishing operations.

One word on the war situation. The response of the people of Canada to our war effort has been simply wonderful. We have a perfect example of the unity that exists between Great Britain and ourselves in the way in which homes have been offered to British children. Some time ago the leader of the opposition referred to immigration and pointed out that the number of people who had come to Canada from the continent of Europe. I was looking over the figures the other day, and it may interest the house to know that in 1871, 92% of the population of Canada were of British and French stock. The last census showed a drop in this percentage to 80%. In other words in 1871, there were in this dominion only some 302,000 persons who had come from Europe or other countries, whereas in 1931 there were in this country 2,000,000 persons who were not of British or French stock.

It may well be that many of the British children who are sent here will remain. I hope it does not happen, but if Hitler makes an onslaught on the British isles it is possible that many parents might be killed. Even though that does not occur, there will be great benefits to Canada from this closer contact between Great Britain and ourselves and we need more British stock.

I do not think the loyalty of anyone should be judged by whether or not he gives a gift of money, and I shall not attempt to make such a judgement at this time. However, I think some praise should be given to those citizens of Canada, from the poorest to the wealthiest, who have given willingly, and, in some instances, most generously. There are those who have sent their fifty cents and upwards. I think the gift of $100,000 to this country by the lieutenant-governor of B.C. should give a lead to many other wealthy Canadians. I have nothing to say about the great city of Toronto. The mayor of that city set out to collect a million dollars, and I believe all he was able to get was $18,000.

Mr. MacNICOL: That is most unfair. No city in Canada is more generous than Toronto.

Mr. REID: I should like now to say something about the splendid work being done by the women of this country. On Thursday morning it was my privilege to attend Capitol theatre to witness a picture put on by the motion picture bureau of the dominion government. After seeing that picture, one could not help but feel impressed and elated by the work being done by our women folk. They are showing a splendid example to the rest of the country.

I come now to the civilian defence units which have been set up in many parts. It is my opinion that when these units were first started they were not well received by the government. Speaking for at least part of B.C., I can say that people there had at least two motives in mind when setting up these units, particularly in the lower Fraser Valley and other parts of province. The first was a desire to do something about the possible unrest which was evident in certain quarters. It was said here that there was no danger, but those of us who live in B.C. know what is going on. We have been greatly perturbed over the possibilities of what might happen in the future.

The Minister of Justice has stated repeatedly that there has been no sabotage I think we would do well to utilize these civilian defence units to cope with attempts at sabotage. My opinion is that they should not be left to operate simply as civilian defence units; they should be tied up in some way with our military operations. Perhaps they could be drafted into the militia units. We should take advantage of this willingness to protect the life and property of our country. I trust the government will take serious note of this and give official recognition to these units.

I do not intend to mention the many vulnerable points of B.C. because they should not be made public on the floor of the house. But we are greatly perturbed, I trust the Minister of Justice and the government will give consideration to the representations which are being made by the attorney general of B.C. I urge upon the government also to have additional naval units placed on the Pacific Coast. No one can tell at what moment there may be other nations arrayed against us. We have our groups of nationals in that province in great numbers, and if other countries should turn against us, these with others might create a serious problem indeed.

I ask the government to do a little more for B.C. When members speak of the west they often think of it as stopping at the Rockies. We have always to mention B.C. as a separate province. But it should not be forgotten that we are the gateway to the Pacific. Frankly, those of us from B.C. would like to see more protection given and much more done to prevent possible sabotage.

In conclusion, Mr. Speaker, as all well know, the situation is serious, but there is no reason for fear, let alone panic. If we gave way to that, we should only be playing into the hands of a ruthless enemy. Hitler's plans are, first, propaganda to create unrest and then fear, and then at a chosen moment to move in ruthlessly on the country he wishes to conquer. I advise hon. members who are interested to read Hermann Raskings' book, "Hitler

Read of Hitler's plans and what he said in 1934 about what he would do to France, and you will see Mr.
Speaker, that his plans have been carried out exactly as predicted; and then read in this same book of his schemes with respect to the United States and Canada, and you will realize just why many of us are greatly perturbed over possible fifth column activities in this country.
The present conflict springs from a pagan conception of some kind of new social order which is founded on might and cruelty, and which ignores the individual. Hitler has declared that he will obliterate religion from the face of the earth.
Our civilization is based upon the Christian conception of the brotherhood of man, the sacredness of human personality, and the sanctity of contractual relations. It is disgraceful to my mind that men in Canada have given utterance to the thought they would prefer Hitler to the country.

Let us throw everything we have in the struggle now, and quickly for we are fighting not only for democracy but for our very lives.

emergencies
... have a telephone

In those emergencies when you need help in a hurry it's important to have a telephone handy. And the quickest way to reach a doctor, police or firemen is by telephone.

Even if the need to summon help by telephone never arises, it is comforting to know you are prepared.

A telephone in the home is a great protection at a small cost.
